

BRAFORD, Yorks., Eng. (Reuter)—Quadruplets—all girls—were born to Mrs. Eileen Horner at St. Luke's Hospital here Sunday night. The smallest weighed 1 pound, 13 ounces, another 1 pound, 15 ounces, and their two sisters 2 pounds, 7 ounces each. They are all thriving on a diet of glucose and water. Mrs. Horner has two other children.

ATHENS (Reuter) — Greece may have five meatless days a week under new crisis measures now being considered by Supply Minister Phokion Zaimis. It was learned today. Rationing may be extended to some hitherto unrationed foods.

Jews Can Look After Themselves In Palestine, Says Zionist Head

JERUSALEM (AP) — Confidence in the ability of Palestine Jews to take care of themselves should the British pull out was reflected today in a Zionist leader's declaration that his people are "both willing and able" to implement settlement of the Holy Land problem by establishment of a sovereign Jewish state.

David Ben-Gurion, head of the Jewish Agency executive and chief political spokesman for Palestine Jewry, made the declaration Sunday in commenting on Britain's decision to surrender her Holy Land mandate—announced Friday to the United Nations.

In affirming the Jews' readiness to work out for themselves the problem of assuming statehood, Ben-Gurion asserted they would make every effort to achieve co-operation with the Arabs, but he added firmly: "It now is clearer than ever that there can be no settlement nor can Palestine become really independent unless a Jewish state is established."

Ben-Gurion's statement came as the United Nations' special committee on Palestine, meeting in New York, prepared to hear Arab arguments against its proposals for partitioning the Holy Land. Jamal Hussein, 55-year-old nephew of the exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, was listed as the first speaker.

Advices from Istanbul, meanwhile, quoted Turkish port authorities there as saying two ships crowded with 4,016 homeless European Jews passed through the Bosphorus Sunday and headed into the Mediterranean.

Captains of the ships, identified as the 1,000-ton Northlands and 1,551-ton Paducah—both flying the flag of Panama, said they were bound for Cuba, the advices declared.

Freighter Damages Ferry Chinook In Collision

The $2,000,000 streamlined Black Ball Line ferry Chinook and the Swedish freighter Dagmar Salen of the Salen Line, collided in Puget Sound Sunday night at 8 in a dense fog.

The Chinook, which was bound from Victoria for Seattle at the time of the collision, reached the U.S. port under her own power, and was back in service this morning, arriving in Victoria shortly before 9 this morning.

Black Ball agents here said the ship would continue her regular schedule until Oct. 5 when she was scheduled to be temporarily removed from service for repainting. The repair work will be done by Todd Shipyards, which built the ferry. The freighter will be put in service here until the Chinook's return.

One crewman said the fog was so dense at the time of the accident that one could not see five feet ahead. Both ships are equipped with radar.

J. D. Taylor, Vancouver, said one of the Chinook's officers told him the ferry's watch officer picked the freighter up on its radar screen a few moments before the collision. The engines were immediately thrown in reverse but it was too late to avert the accident.

Although several hundred passengers aboard the ferry were thrown into momentary panic by the impact, only one woman was injured. Mrs. J. W. Bootle, 30, Vancouver, suffered back injuries when she was thrown to the deck. Her 10-month-old child, hurled from her arms, was uninjured.

Both vessels proceeded under their own power after the collision, which, according to Capt. Arnold Eikum, occurred shortly after 8 in the evening. The Chinook went on to Seattle, discharged passengers and then sailed again on its run to Victoria at 1 this morning.

A ferry passenger, Harry Eaton, Seattle, said the freighter's bow struck the port side of the ferry at about a 45-degree angle about 40 feet aft of the bow.

Damage to the Chinook, seen here this morning, seemed comparatively light. The port flying wing of her bridge was totally demolished. Plates lower down were buckled in and holes punched into the forward observation lounge, and, below that, into the car deck. A tarpaulin this morning shielded the lounge from the open. A piece of metal was also torn away down by the fender of the ferry where her hull sheers away sharply to the waterline.

The extensive overhang, designed to increase automobile capacity, probably saved the ferry from being holed below the waterline.

Black Ball Line officials said the damage would run into several thousand dollars, but would not prevent the vessel from continuing in service.

The freighter Dagmar Salen, was outbound from Seattle to Vancouver and the Orient. It is understood the bridge of the freighter was damaged in the collision but she continued on to Vancouver.

Capt. Lyle Fowler, the Chinook's skipper, said he had turned control of the ferry over to his relief captain, Capt. Eikum, at 3 Sunday afternoon when he left Victoria. Neither he nor Capt. Eikum would discuss details of the accident.

PASSENGERS PANICKY AFTER IMPACT

Mr. Eaton, in his description of the accident, said he was seated in the forward lounge when the vessels collided. "Some of the passengers screamed and they were quite panicky, rushing out of the lounge toward the lifeboats, or to the lifebelts in their cabins. A lot of broken glass from the ferry's windows was thrown around the lounge, but I didn't see anyone cut. The impact knocked the legs off several chairs and broke an ornamental bronze railing near the lounge windows."

The Chinook is the latest addition to the Black Ball fleet. She was launched April 23 this year and went into service on the Seattle-Port Townsend-Port Angeles-Victoria run late in June. One of the fastest vessels of its type in service, the Chinook will accommodate 900 passengers and 100 automobiles.

Other transportation services also had trouble with the fog, but none so serious. The C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service vessel, Motor Princess had to cancel her Gulf Islands trip Sunday and was late this morning in starting out. B.C.C.S.S. officials said other vessels were running on schedule.

Trans-Canada Air Lines reported its planes delayed out of Patricia Bay today, but back on schedule by late morning.

Farmers Demand 2-Cent Boost In Milk Prices

Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam assured this afternoon that no increase in milk prices would be granted until a full inquiry into milk prices had been made and until public hearings had been held by British Columbia's one-man milk commission.

The minister's announcement followed a three-and-a-half-hour discussion today in which representatives of the lower mainland milk producers demanded the provincial government increase the retail price of milk by at least two cents a quart, all of the increase to go to the primary producers.

Even while the discussions were in progress before Mr. Putnam and E. C. Carr, milk commissioner, a protest was received by the government from housewives in Vancouver, suggesting that instead of increasing the price the spread between the primary producers and retailers be cut down.

Spokesman for the delegation which met in Mr. Putnam's office was Basil Gardom, who said it was impossible for milk producers to carry on under present price structures. Costs of production had gone up enormously while production had fallen.

"Two cents per quart is not enough," he said, adding that butchers were taking a lot of cattle now. He suggested that the current demands for increase in milk prices had resulted from depressing prices during the war.

Mr. Putnam said that the government had been anticipating the demand for boosts in milk prices and that present investigations would be continued. No assurances were given the delegation.

Mr. Putnam indicated that if the board found milk prices had to rise to maintain production there was nothing to do but increase the price.

Railways Announce Increase In Freight

OTTAWA (CP)—The Railway Association of Canada announced before the Board of Transport Commissioners today that it was planned to increase certain freight and express rates by 30 per cent, effective Nov. 1, as a result of the recent freeing of transportation rates from price control.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Acting Mayor Charles Jones and Alderman Charles Thompson both announced today they would contest the civic election next December for a mayor to fill the one-year unexpired term of the late Sepsator G. G. McGeer.

3,500 More Packinghouse Workers Plan Strike Vote

By CANADIAN PRESS

With the two-week-old packinghouse workers' strike declared illegal by six provinces, the threat of a new walk-out which would make severe inroads into the already-reduced meat supply loomed today on Canada's labor horizon.

Fred W. Dowling, Canadian director of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.), announced that with 12,000 U.P.W.A. members on strike for higher wages, a further 3,500 workers will vote this week on whether they will join the tie-up to seek a similar pay boost of 17½ cents an hour.

At present 21 plants operated by Canada Packers, Swift Canadian and Burns and Company are shut down by the strike. Dowling said the strike vote would start at once in another 21 plants operated by smaller independent packers—three in British Columbia, one in Alberta, three in Saskatchewan, eight in Manitoba and six in Ontario. The present strike is on in all provinces but Nova Scotia, which has no packing houses.

NEAR EXPIRY DATES

The independent plants now are operating under extended wage contracts or under contracts nearing expiration.

Labor-Department representatives of six of the eight provinces which participated in the two-day Toronto conference which ended Saturday declared the U.P.W.A. strike illegal in that it violated provincial laws. Agreed on this point were Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Manitoba and Alberta. Saskatchewan dissented and Prince Edward Island's representative attended only as an observer. British Columbia was not represented.

It had been expected the conference might agree on appointment of a common conciliator, but the statement issued at its close said the provinces—with Saskatchewan again dissenting—decided the strikers must return to work as a preliminary to further settlement moves.

The formal conference over, four provinces discussed conciliation possibilities. Labor Minister Smith of Manitoba announced that Alberta, Saskatchewan, New wan called the Toronto conference a "breakdown." He announced at Saskatoon that the Saskatchewan Legislature may be called into special session to deal with the strike if the meat supply situation worsens.

EFFORTS IN P.E.I.

In Prince Edward Island the provincial government sought to end the tie-up in Charlottetown's Canada Packers plant by preparing to take over the plant Tuesday and operate it under a cabinet minister. But Sunday night the strikers announced they would not return to work even for the government unless they were given the 32 cents an hour raise they demand.

Meanwhile came word from the west of the increasing severity of the meat shortage caused by the strike. Earl R. Nichols, president of the Canada Restaurant Association, said in a telegram sent from Banff, Alta., to Prime Minister King and to provincial premiers that a "serious situation" was developing across Canada and urged that no possible avenue of negotiations be overlooked.

VISHINSKY'S VILIFICATION

WERE IT NOT FOR THE FACT THAT the Russian attitude at the second session of the General Assembly of the United Nations is completely out of tune with the principal objects written into the Charter at San Francisco in the spring of 1945, the tirades which Mr. Vishinsky has directed against all and sundry, save those states influenced or dominated by Moscow, might qualify for inclusion in an international comic strip. None seeks to deny the Deputy-Foreign Commissar of the Soviet Union his right to express his government's views in such terms as the men at the Kremlin deem suitable to the present occasions. But when he, for some extraordinary and unaccountable reason, chooses to devote the major part of his public utterances to the flinging of wild charges against those nations which are striving to honor the commitments to which they engaged themselves as signatories of the Charter, he is not only insulting the intelligence of the great majority of the peoples of the world, but is also, wittingly or unwittingly, producing a condition that eventually must be seriously inimical to the best interests of his own country as well as others.

Mr. Vishinsky's press conference last Friday evidently reached new heights of fancy and stupidity. For nearly an hour he treated more than 300 busy newspaper correspondents—plus a similar number of interested listeners composed of members of delegations and secretariats—to a repetition of the ludicrous charges he had previously levelled against other nations, principally Great Britain and the United States, when he delivered his main address before the General Assembly several days ago. But he seems to have gone one better than he did on that occasion. Not satisfied with calling down imprecations on the two chief western democracies for what he generally implied was their anti-Soviet attitude, he singled out several prominent figures in the public life of both countries.

And not a few present at this so-called press conference must have wondered what was coming next when the Russian laid special emphasis on the alleged warmongering of such colorful individuals as the Chicago Tribune's Colonel "Bertie" McCormick and radio commentator-columnist Walter Winchell. Of course, if Mr. Vishinsky had had the time at his disposal, and if he had been permitted to import a battalion of his country's secret police to keep his audience within the four walls of the committee room he had selected for his entertainment, he might have named a few persons from every state of the Union and every province of the "tight little isle" for similar castigations—for the reason that they, in private or public, have dared to pronounce the belief that their system of democratic procedure is far superior to and much more pleasant than the rigid totalitarianism practised by Moscow.

Small wonder, then, that long before the Soviet envoy had finished reading in Russian, pausing for translations, the 10 pages of manuscript already in the possession of the assembled newspapermen (in English), many in his audience either took themselves off to attend to their important assignments or shuffled their feet in demonstration of their impatience. One of these days, perhaps, Mr. Vishinsky may receive instructions from Moscow to do something constructive to make the United Nations organization work. But as the days pass such a prospect appears to be hopeless.

CONFUSION IN THE RANKS

A CANADIAN PRESS DISPATCH FROM Fredericton, N.B., quotes Mr. John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, as saying that "there is only one gainer in the Government's tax policy and that is the Government itself." It is no new thing for the Leader of the Opposition to give voice to this mistaken assessment of fact—the old bromide that "the Government" is one thing and "the people" another. If "the Government" gains, the people of whom the Government is merely the representative must obviously gain also. Money collected through taxes does not become the personal possession of the members of the Government, as Mr. Bracken's argument implies. It becomes the common fund of the people, to be used in running the country of which they are citizens.

It is interesting to speculate whether, if the time ever comes when Mr. Bracken can assume the leadership of Canada's Government, he will continue to differentiate between "the Government" and "the people." Our guess is that he would make an immediate about-face and insist that he and his ministers were one and indivisible with the body of voters. However, in view of the present state of the Progressive Conservative Party, it will probably be a long time before such speculation can be put to the test.

Postwar tactics of the Tory party have emphasized frequent advice to the Dominion Government to the effect that it should "take over this," and "step in and control that"; assert its authority here and wield the big stick there. The campaign has been assiduously aided by certain of our contemporaries, who never fail to upbraid the Liberal administration for refraining from what would amount to nothing less than a strong centralization of authority in this country. That many of their exhortations, if carried out, would ride roughshod over the sovereign rights of the provinces never seems to occur to those who throw discretion to the winds in their anxiety to get in a blow at the King ministry. The Opposition efforts are not without their humor, which is heightened by the fact that one of the most ardent supporters of provincial rights in this country today is Conservative Premier George Drew of Ontario, who carried his dislike of centralization to the point of refusing to join with the rest of the provinces in a joint federal-provincial taxation arrangement. Mr. Drew's feelings, as the national leaders of his political faith continue to advocate the very thing against which he is so energetically striving, can only be imagined.

MR. LOUIS LeBOURDAIS

HIS PARTICULAR GENIUS FOR friendship had made the late Louis LeBourdais an intimate of British Columbians in all walks of life throughout the province he knew so well. His was the ready smile, the hand of fellowship and the happy faculty of devoting his attention to the personal concerns of those he met in a manner that convinced them of his interest.

As a member of the British Columbia Legislature for the last 10 years, he had brought a true representation of the spirit of the northern interior to the capital. Widely informed on a vast range of subjects, he preserved the folksy ways of his constituency, the merits of which he continuously extolled. Hundreds to whom the Cariboo was but a romantic section of British Columbia, known mainly for its glamorous contribution to the gold rush history, gained a new appreciation of that rich hinterland under the persuasive oratory that rose from Mr. LeBourdais' heart.

His colorful career as cowboy, telegraph operator, contributor to newspapers and magazines, and as a public servant was marked by a vigor typical of the land from which he sprang. In politics he adhered to the Liberal persuasion, and with the advent of the Coalition gave unstintingly of his energies to the cause of the partnership. His friendships, however, knew no cleavage on party lines. He held the affection and respect of those of many shades of opinion whose sense of personal loss over his death last Saturday is moving tribute to the position he enjoyed.

THE HARD WAY

SO GREAT A LOVER OF PEACE AS Mahatma Gandhi last week predicted that unless the savage inter-religious massacres now taking a heavy toll in India and Pakistan were terminated, outright civil war was likely to follow. If this were not enough to silence the echo of the voices which used to blame Britain for her control of India, and even accuse her of fomenting religious prejudice for her own ends, a later dispatch reveals that the new Dominion of Pakistan has appealed to Britain for help in ending the slaughter.

It is one thing to strive to attain complete political freedom, and quite another thing to use that freedom properly when it has been won. Political freedom entails more than merely a throwing off of outside restraints. It demands heavy responsibilities, self-discipline and wisdom from those who would enjoy its benefits. Those who so proudly assumed the leadership of their country and who insisted on its division into two separate, independent states have been appalled at the slaughter that has been let loose on their people and which they appear powerless to stop. The true casualty totals may never be known, but estimates have placed them well in the hundreds of thousands as Moslems, Sikhs and Hindus have vented their rage in "retaliation" slayings. Government authority, striving to assert itself through intervention of the armed forces, has been frustrated as Sikh troops have in many cases failed to protect the Moslem refugees they were sent to save.

In bloodshed and turmoil India and Pakistan are learning the lesson of political responsibility. It is easy to sympathize with their impatience to achieve their independence, but less hurry might have resulted in a more promising future for the two new nations.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

THE GOOD INVESTMENT

IN ITALY, IT IS EASY to foresee and describe the consequences of American inaction in the present world economic crisis. If the United States does not promptly meet the challenge, Italy's barely reborn freedom will meet an early death. And thus will be set in remorseless motion a chain of events which must end with political and strategic disaster, utter, complete and irretrievable except by the terrible expedient of war, for the United States.

It is less easy, yet equally important, to estimate the effectiveness of the remedies which the United States can offer. Yet after exhaustively consulting all available authorities, this correspondent ventures the opinion that Italy is a presently good investment in this inevitably risky world.

REAMS OF STATISTICS could be offered to support the statement that the Italians have already achieved a triumph in post-war reconstruction. In every ministry in Rome, they give you sheaves of figures—and very moving figures too—showing bridges rebuilt, transport links reopened, factories restored to production, and farm output brought up by the unrelenting labor of the Italian people. But it is immeasurably more convincing, since fallible human nature has a tendency to reject statistical proofs, to visit one of those areas in Italy which were scenes of almost total desolation hardly more than three years ago.

SALERNO, the site of the bloody Salerno landing, was one such. Yet on that enchanted coast today there is hardly a sign of the out-pouring of blood, the carnival of destruction, which so recently occurred. More ancient history is immeasurably more conspicuous. Like a dream of the glory of Greece, the honey-colored temples drowse at Paestum among the oleanders. Domed house roofs and pointed windows in the little fishing villages recall the Saracen dominion. And in Salerno's cathedral, although the forecourt with its borrowed Roman columns still shows some signs of shell fire, the guide points happily to mementos of the great Pope Hildebrand and the superb mosaics of the time of Ferdinand of Hohenstaufen.

Salerno and the countryside are restored again. The scars of war are cleaned away. The peasants labor to make ten square yards of arable earth by building ten square yards of wall to hold the land against the mountainside. The figs, the lemons and the oranges are fruiting in the sun on every terrace. The lights of the fishing fleets twinkle numerously in every bay at dusk. And only the empty resort hotels, vacant because none but Americans can afford to travel, hint of the catastrophe of bankruptcy that menaces western Europe.

THE LESSON is extremely simple. The Italians work. They work in the factories of Milan and Turin, in the smiling Tuscan countryside, or on the sharp slopes of South Italy. By work they have got their country going again, so that industrial production has risen from 25 per cent of pre-war to 70 per cent, while farm output has increased from 60 per cent of pre-war to 80 per cent. This national production must provide, however, for a population increased by nearly three millions since 1940, so that the level of individual life is still far below what it was in the pre-war period. It is, in fact, something like an internment camp. The ration of 200 grams of bread a day provides the bulk of the individual Italian's sustenance. The trimmings—the oil, fish, fruit, cheese and scraps of meat—are obtained in tiny quantities at staggering prices on the black market, or often from relatives who own farms. It is because the level of life is still so low that the Communist party retains important strength.

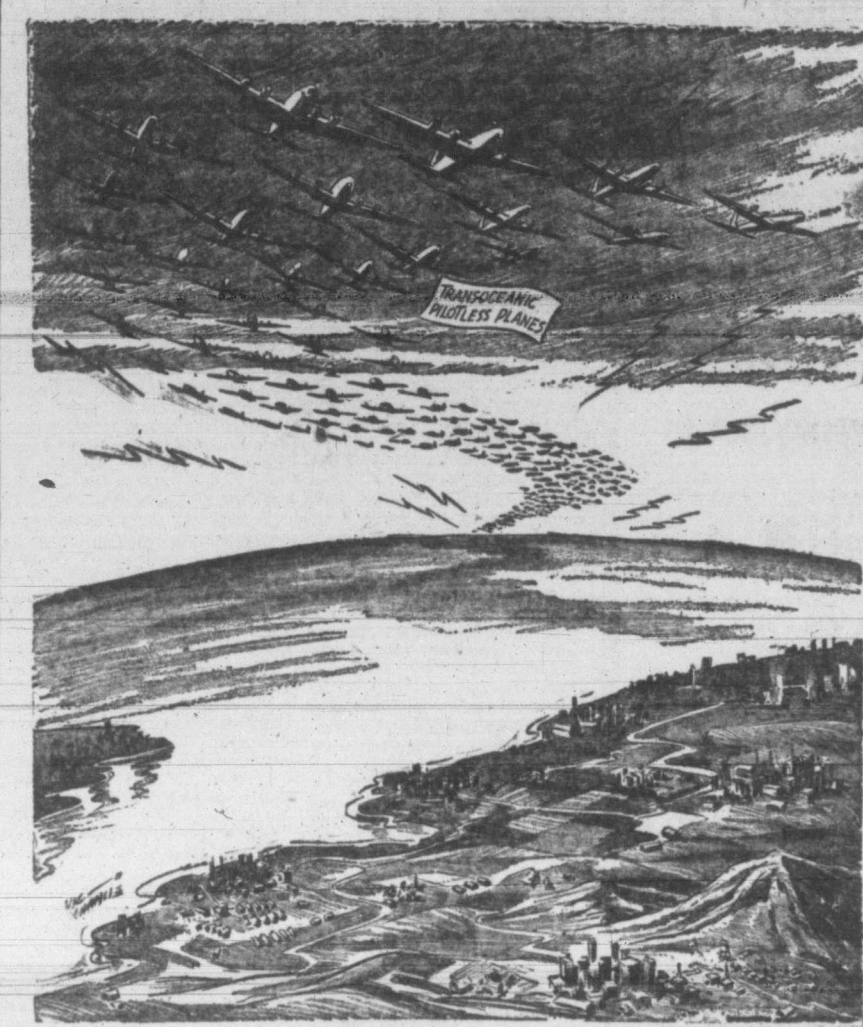

AND IN RAISING the level of life every thing depends on two things. There must be dollars from the United States, to provide wheat for bread, fertilizer for the long unfertilized fields and coal and raw materials for the factories. And the United States must somehow prevent the world economic collapse which would cut off the Italian export (as well as her own). Disaster will come in Italy if the dollars are lacking or world economic chaos is permitted to occur.

The specific needs of Italy are, moreover, fairly moderate in total. Securing wheat allocations from the world pool will actually be harder than making the needed dollars available. In very brief terms, the Italian government has asked Washington for $250,000,000 to cover the deficit for the rest of this year, and for a descending scale of reconstruction credits for four years thereafter. These sums to put Italy on her feet amount to $825,000,000 for 1949, $410,000,000 for 1950 and $130,000,000 for 1951.

THE AMOUNTS are considerable but they are also approximately one-fortieth of the cost of the American taxpayer of another $20,000,000,000 annually for national defence. And the incomparable myopia of a Kenneth Wherry—surely an important case for politico-medical history—is needed not to see that tripling the cost of the national defense will be the first result of letting western Europe slip into the Soviet sphere.

Foreign capital will be welcome in India for our schemes of development on profitable terms, but the control of Indian industry must remain in Indian hands.—Pandit Nehru, premier of India.

Why We MUST Have Peace

Willing Co-operation Needed For Victory

By ARTHUR HEPNER, From London, in The New Republic

AWKWARDLY but surely, the British government appears at last to be showing some signs of ability to stem the tide of increasing economic difficulties. Though it's too soon for a final judgment of Sir Stafford Cripps' attack on the problem, most Britishers see it as the most forthright approach made by a government official since the crisis developed.

Unfortunately the Labor government's grand long-range strategy which Cripps unfolded didn't provide what is urgently needed—an immediate, detailed campaign plan. So the British were left without what they most want—knowledge of how much sacrifice they must make, when, and of what kind.

PANIC BUYING

The morning after Cripps' radio talk, housewives staged a run on shops selling pans, crockery and other home furnishings, clearing the shelves of all available ration-free consumer goods. The reason was Cripps' remark that there would be less goods for home use because industry would have to concentrate on meeting increased export goals. Only what is left after export requirements are met would be released for the home market, he said. It would have been more sensible for Cripps to have coupled this announcement with the freeing of all ration-free articles and the reinstitution of a rationing system for them. For the hard fact is that the present economic crisis has many of the aspects of war. Widespread rationing is imperative, so are greater rationalization of production forces, tight controls on materials and on production programs.

Actually, after Cripps' pronouncement, all Britain knows the government hopes to overcome the crisis by reducing imports and capital expenditures, and by increasing exports by the end of 1948 up to 60 per cent over 1938, the best prewar year. This means bringing them about one-third above present levels. So long as the government holds off imposition of all-out controls, many questions arise. For instance, suppose an essential industry makes an unreasonable demand as its price for compliance with the over-all program? Suppose it's an industry such as steel or automobile, and the whole industry gangs up? The government wouldn't be able to divert allocation of raw materials elsewhere, because no other industries could manufacture such commodities.

CONTROLS REIMPOSED

The Trades Union Congress at its recent conference in Southport agreed to a limited degree of official direction of labor, and the government is reintroducing a form of modified labor control. But neither of these measures will funnel workers into industries where added manpower is needed, to satisfy expanded export quotas. Nor will either round up the "spivs"—the men who live by their wits instead of working—and place them in productive enterprises.

Cripps warned of official toughness if private industry would not do the job. But for the present there's no prospect of compulsion. Left-wingers consider this a capitulation to private enterprise as represented by the Federation of British Industries, and they don't like it.

What about wildcat strikes such as the one in Yorkshire which cost 500,000 tons of vital coal? The government can't mine coal. These considerations must be borne in mind.

What these questions mean is that success of the Cripps program depends on the good will of management, labor and consumers at a time when the situation is too critical for dependence on voluntary compliance.

The Moving Finger Writes....

SLASH BURNING

Every fall we see palls of smoke which obscure the horizon and cause considerable worry to the public, because of the forced burning of the slash in logging operations.

I have discussed this matter with practical logging operators, and they truthfully say that the Forestry Department orders them to set fires in the bush.

It seems to me that it is about time that such tragic wastage and potential danger to standing timber, as well as felled and bucked timber, should be called to a halt. We can be sure that countries which follow the wise custom of husbanding their various resources, would never tolerate such appalling policies. Surely there can be some system developed, whereby all useful wood can be removed from these logging operations as they proceed, even though the government may need to subsidize these operations. Unquestionably it would be to the public good if this were done, and the forest floor left in a natural state for re-seeding.

Where rocky terrain is encountered, every bit of humus is utterly destroyed, so that further growth is prevented for many decades.

One of the new trends regarding the use of forest growth, is that of pressed wood, wall board, etc., and these industries should be encouraged and fostered, so as to give our economy a proper balance.

FREE SPEECH

After reading the headlines in the Vancouver Sun that Russia asks "U.N. control of free speech and crisis," I was surprised when I read the proposed resolution. Not to suppress free speech and crisis but to prohibit war propaganda in any form.

This psychometric gossip of what the U.S.S.R. would do with the atomic bomb if she had it, or what the U.S. should do with it now she has it, is fatuous nonsense, but will in time by constant repetition cloud clear thinking.

It was not good ethics on the eve of a meeting of the United Nations for a lawyer Senator and his brother, a judge, to voice their opinions for one-sided publicity. They would not do this in civil or criminal court. They must know how dangerous it is, inciting to murder of an individual is a serious charge in our courts, but inciting the murder of a nation, up until now, is considered free speech involving no court action to produce evidence.

The appointing of a U.N. court not to suppress free speech or crisis, but to give the individual or nation a chance to prove or refute charges, seems to me, a big step towards peace on earth. Would not a U.N. court with free entry into all countries to gather evidence tend to lift the alleged "iron curtains" of the U.S.S.R.?

Just a suggestion after a study of the photos of the delegates as they sit with their earphones. Would it not help towards the brotherhood of man if a symphony orchestra was present at United Nations Hall so that during recess periods the delegates and the interpreters can relax?

WILLIAM MITCHELL,

TORMENTOR VISHINSKY

So Nikola Petkov, the Bulgarian peasant leader, is no more. Another martyr to freedom. Since the beginning of time, saints and prophets, leaders of new thought, have paid the penalty of thinking and speaking their inmost thoughts. It is more important that freedom should live than that these immortals should be preserved from cruel and violent death. Yet men have never learned the needed lesson that truth must live, or the Heavens will fall. Socrates willingly drank his bitter cup of hemlock, knowing that truth was something only for the immortals.

Just what the Soviet government and its base imitators expect to gain from this betrayal, who can say? The arch tormentor, Vishinsky, has spoken in the General Assembly of the United Nations. His words are without solace, and constitute a new epoch of challenge to freedom; the same cold, heartless sentences as he has uttered at the trials of so many Russian patriots. Vishinsky, the accuser, talks vaguely of the insincerity of western democracies, while he and his masters seek to establish a new form of government based on blind, slavish obedience. No discussion is permitted.

THE EAGERNESS and affection with which Britain is preparing for the forthcoming royal wedding despite the economic crisis underlines the United Kingdom's loyalty to the throne.

It also seems to answer in the negative the question of whether Britain is swinging toward Communism. Observers in general find no present indication that John Bull is bent on anything more than moderate Socialism.

Princess Elizabeth will have a wedding such as befits the girl who is expected one day to sit upon the throne. She and Philip Mountbatten will be married in Westminster Abbey and there will be a magnificent procession through London; a great reception; eight wedding cakes weighing 300 pounds or more each; many and wonderful wedding presents, and the whole country will be en fete.

However, the wedding will lack the splendor of bygone days. Costs will be kept as low as possible. The Princess will forego a trousseau, and we even find the August Lord Chamberlain announcing that gentlemen attending the wedding may wear ordinary lounge suits instead of the customary morning dress of long tails and striped trousers.

PART OF THE FAMILY

Thus deference will be paid to slim pocketbooks. Still, the people didn't want an out and out "austerity" wedding for the Princess. The reason is that the King and Queen and their children are looked upon as a part of the English family as a whole, comprising all classes. In war and in peace, royalty in modern times has marched with the "rank and file." It belongs among cherished traditions.

Furthermore no political line can be drawn about present day British royalty. It exercises no influence on the political thoughts of the people. It is head of the social structure but knows no class.

There are some extreme British leftists, especially the Communists, who are bitterly opposed to the monarchy and would do away with it. The opposition which they express is political, social and economic. The upkeep of royalty always has been a particularly sore spot with these folk.

Looking back through the centuries we find that it has cost England a pretty penny to maintain the royal house. However, the modern set-up presents a different picture.

ROYAL FINANCE

The Royal Family over the generations has acquired much property. For example the King is said to own priceless real estate in the heart of London and in New York city. But in recent reigns the ruler has surrendered private revenues to the government, and in the case of George VI the annual total is some $1,207,470 ($4,829,880).

The government pays the King $410,000 yearly, and on this transaction makes a profit of $797,470. Out of this the government pays allowances to other members of the Royal House, such as $15,000 to Princess Elizabeth, $50,000 to the Duke of Gloucester, $70,000 to dowager Queen Mary, and $6,000 to her eldest daughter, the Princess Royal. The net gain to the government is still considerable.

There is royal property from which the government doesn't draw revenue. For instance, Queen Mary is said to be very rich. The Duke of Windsor is reputed to be a millionaire, with heavy investments abroad, including the United States.

So, despite the debateable cost of maintaining royalty, it strikes me that Elizabeth's wedding gives us a fair line on the significance of Socialism as at present practiced in Britain.

LEFT WAITING

A Melbourne News Letter
A Melbourne business man interested in steel towers wanted to get in touch with his opposite number in another firm.

But he dialled his own number and the call came to his own switchboard on another line. His own telephonist asked him what he wanted and he said he wanted to speak to the man dealing with steel towers, and could not remember his name.

"His line's engaged," said the girl. "Will you wait?"

"Yes, thank you," he replied.

So the gentleman sat there for quite a while waiting for himself to hang up so that he could be put on his own line to talk to himself.

Eventually the telephonist said: "Mr. So and So is still engaged." "Good Lord! I'm So and So," he said—and spilt a better story.

City's Newest Service Station Open To Public

Motorists of Greater Victoria and surrounding area will receive fast and efficient attention at the new and modern Clovelly Service Station, located at the intersection of Cook and Quadra Streets.

Built by Arthur Stonier for his brother, Leslie Stonier, and two army friends, the centre will feature a "two-minute service" on gasoline, oil, water, tire and windshield requirements of all patrons' cars.

J. L. Martin will be proprietor of the station which has been named after Clovelly Terrace—a roadway entering Quadra at the same intersection. Employees include Leslie Curtiss, another veteran of the Canadian Army.

Locally designed, the ultra-modern building includes an artistic glass front, large showroom, complete restroom facilities and other attractions for the motoring public.

The modern lubrication system is one of the most complete units of its kind in the city.

Clovelly Service Station will handle B.A. products exclusively, Fisk tires and Exide batteries. It is one of several new and large business establishments opened recently at this particular intersection.

Completion of the building had been scheduled some time ago, but was delayed due to shortages of material and labor.

Board To Study Demands Of Seamen For Wage Boosts

Appointment of a conciliation board in an effort to effect a settlement in negotiations between the Seafarers' International Union (T.L.C.-A.F.L.) and the Canadian Pacific, Canadian National and Union steamship companies was reported here today by officials of the union.

Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. member of the Provincial Legislature for Mackenzie, has been notified by the Federal Labor Department of his appointment as nominee of the union on a three-man board. Arthur Lindsay is the operators' nominee.

Confirmation of the appointments is pending. A third member will be named either by Mr. Gargrave and Mr. Lindsay or by the federal government.

Setting up of a conciliation board follows lengthy negotiations which have failed to produce agreement between the companies and the union. Already negotiation with the aid of a federal conciliation officer has broken down.

The union is seeking wage increases of $50 per month a 44-hour work week, increased overtime pay and a month's paid holiday a year. Involved in the negotiations are 800 unlicensed employees of the three companies on ships operated on this coast, including the Princess ships which form the main link between Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Meanwhile the Canadian Press reported from Vancouver that negotiations will open Oct. 15 between the Canadian Seamen's Union and operators of deep-sea ships for a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost, 40 and 48-hour work weeks, sick pay and other concessions.

Germans Smile As Shelter Stands

BERLIN (AP)—Many Germans smiled Saturday as the Nazi-built air raid shelter in the Tiergarten defied British efforts to flatten it with explosives.

Last month the British army tried to destroy the massive steel-and-concrete shelter and flak tower with 50,000 pounds of TNT. The tower stood firm, though shattered inside.

Then demolition squads undertook to knock it down by sections. After preliminary blasting they placed a charge Saturday that was intended, according to public announcement, to "bring down one corner of the tower." A hole approximately 15 by 6 feet was blown in the northwest wall. German police standing guard around the explosion scene were observed to be smiling.

Leaders of the demolition squads said they had used 8,000 pounds of a new type plastic explosive. They announced the demolition efforts would continue.

New Gyro Executive Installed In Office

The newly-elected executive of the Victoria Gyro Club was installed in office at a club banquet held Saturday night in the Royal Colwood Golf Club. D. M. Wood of Tacoma, district governor for Gyros in the Pacific northwest area, was installing officer.

Those taking office were William E. Bond, president; L. J. McLennan, vice-president; William Hudson, secretary-treasurer, and P. D. F. Holmes, W. E. Parker, T. E. Watkins and Douglas Genn, directors.

Gyros attending the installation from other clubs came from Vancouver, Nanaimo, Tacoma, Calgary and Burnaby. A dance was held following the banquet.

Contract Revisions For Restorer Crew

Word is being awaited here today by the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) from the Commercial Pacific Cable Company on negotiations concluded recently for revision of the present collective agreement for employees of the cableship Restorer.

The negotiations for revision of the contract were conducted in Seattle by officials of the union and Capt. J. H. Connelly.

The union has asked an across-the-board wage boost amounting to about 12 per cent and certain reductions in hours of work. The negotiations affect about 70 unlicensed employees of the company aboard the ship.

According to union officials the ship is scheduled to leave here for Guam about Oct. 15.

They'll Do It Every Time$314 Stolen From Under Sleeping Airman's Pillow

Headed by the report of a $314 cash theft from a wallet under the pillow of a sleeping man in Prince Robert House, city police had several reports of theft reported to them during the week-end.

Detective-Sergeant Henry Jarvis and Detective Bill Richards interviewed Sgt. R. J. Dupuis, R.C.A.F. Patricia Bay, Sunday, and learned from him that while he was asleep in a room someone entered during Saturday night to Sunday morning and took his wallet from under his pillow containing three $100 bills and a number of other bills of smaller denominations.

Juveniles are believed responsible for the minor theft in the Metropolitan Church Saturday evening. Peter Smith, caretaker, reported at 7.45 that evening he found a wall rack containing literature and a small cash box had been torn down. The cash box was taken to the basement and shattered with an axe. It contained between 50 and 75 cents.

C.P.F. police reported to city police yesterday that on one evening last week a boxcar in the False Creek yards was entered and that eight cases of different varieties of port wine were stolen.

Mrs. Helen Cook told police that when she was shopping Saturday a leather wallet in her purse was stolen.

Pat Bay Air Show Attracts 1,000

Although some participating aircraft from Vancouver were delayed nearly two hours because of poor weather over their home fields, Saturday afternoon's air show at Patricia Bay, presented by the Victoria Flying Club in observance of the 20th anniversary of flying clubs in Canada, proved a great success. More than 1,000 persons were on hand at the R.C.A.F. station to witness the spectacular events.

While awaiting the arrival of the mainland planes, the crowd was entertained by a pilot from Aero Surveys Ltd., who put one of the firm's helicopters through its paces. The machine was flown straight up and down, forward and backward and kept hovering. For most spectators, this was their first sight of a helicopter.

A demonstration of crop dusting by a low flying aircraft attracted much attention from agriculturists in the crowd. The plane flew only a few feet from the ground pouring out a cloud of chemical smoke.

Feature attraction of the afternoon was a parachute jump by Wing Cmdr. Albert Carter. Jumping at 2,000 feet, he fell 1,000 feet before opening his chute. Another highlight of the show was a demonstration of flying by a man with no previous flying experience. Ray Wormald, the green pilot, took the plane off the field, flew it and landed it.

STOMACH DISTRESS at the Bridge Party...TWO RENNIES give instant aid

UPSET FEELINGS would start—of course—just when you are enjoying yourself. But you can get quick relief if you carry a few RENNIES in your pocket or handbag, because you can take them at once (no water needed).

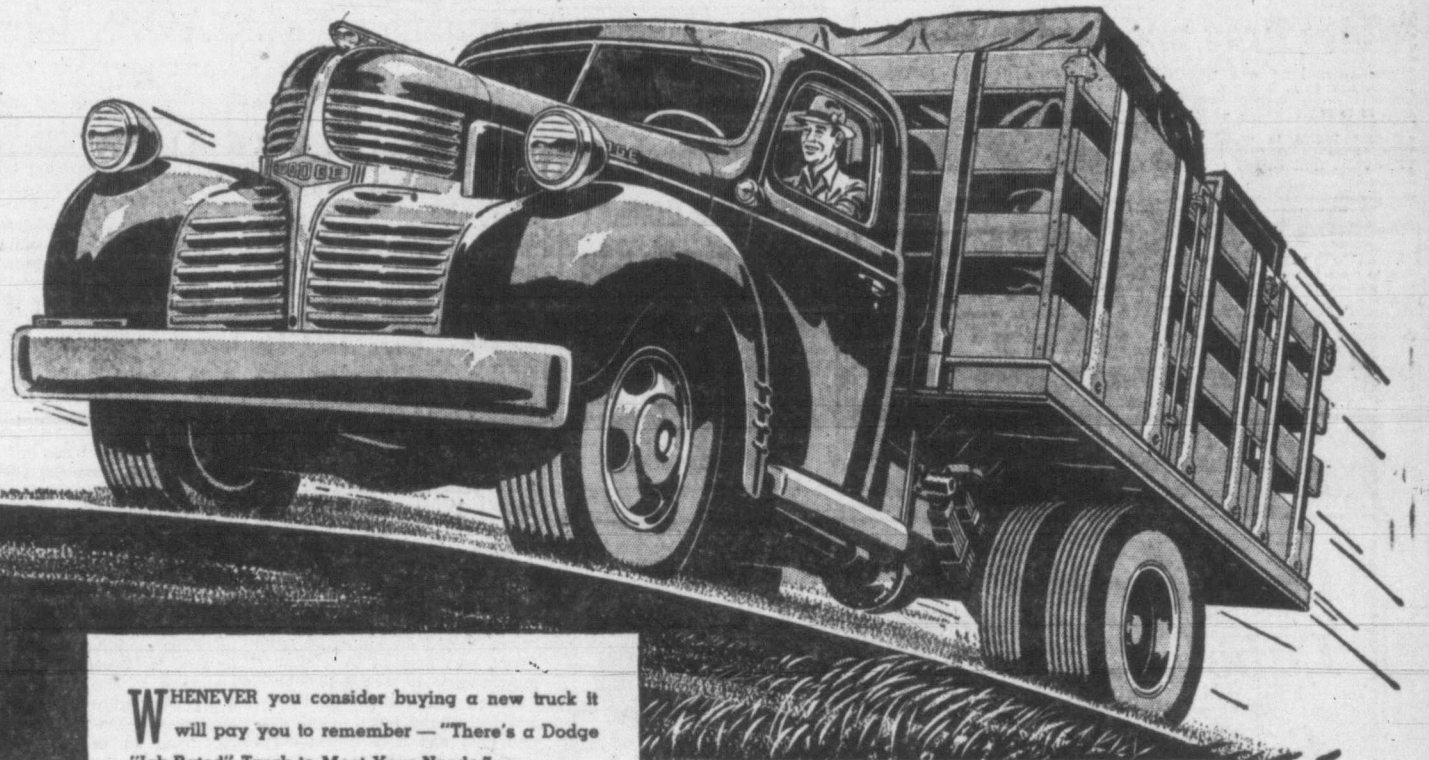

Just pop two RENNIES into your mouth. RENNIES are pleasant-tasting tablets which you dissolve on your tongue like candies. Their soothing antacid ingredients act quickly in helping to neutralize excess acid and help relieve your upset stomach, and the miserable feelings of indigestion, dyspepsia and heartburn.

Each RENNIE tablet is individually wrapped in hygienic waxed paper, so you can carry a few Rennies in pocket or handbag. Easy to take—anytime, anywhere. At all Drugists—25c and 75c.

Twins, Cecilia, Rosamond Milne, Brides At Metchosin

Friday at 4.30 the wedding of the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Milne, "Lamorna," Metchosin, took place at St. Mary's Church, Metchosin. Miss Cecilia Mary Milne became the bride of George Norman Worsley, younger son of Lieut.-Col. R. S. Worsley and Mrs. Worsley of Mill Bay, and Miss Rosamond Elizabeth Milne, the bride of Thomas Barton, Victoria, younger son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. N. C. Barton of this city.

Rev. H. M. Bolton performed the double ceremony. T. A. Piddington, brother-in-law of the brides, played wedding music. J. M. Milne, who gave both his daughters in marriage, escorted Miss Cecilia, while W. M. Milne, brother of the brides, accompanied Miss Rosamond.

A Proven Remedy For Sour Stomach

Symptoms of indigestion cause considerable distress to thousands of people. Many find relief through the use of Cal-Bis-Sodex which contains ingredients that gently help alkalize the stomach and restore proper functioning of the digestive system. Cal-Bis-Sodex gives faster relief from the distress of digestive disturbances. Cal-Bis-Sodex is on sale for 35c and 45c at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores.

Identical sheer white gowns were worn by the brides, who carried bouquets of rose carnations.

Mrs. T. A. Piddington attended her sisters as matron of honor. She wore pink moire silk. Miss Winona Worsley, sister of Norman Worsley, was bridesmaid, in powder blue silk. Both carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Little Helen Piddington, niece of the brides, was flower girl in a floor-length white flowered frock of muslin, and carried a Colonial posy. Master James Milne, their nephew, wore a white sailor suit for his role as page boy.

Ralph Worsley came from Vancouver to attend his brother as best man, and Kenneth Keith was best man for Mr. Barton.

Ushers were Ramsay Milne and John Barton, both of Vancouver.

The church was decorated by friends of the brides, with profusions of flowers and autumn leaves. White gladioli were placed on the altar.

A reception was held at "Lamorna." Mrs. Milne, mother of the brides, Mrs. Worsley, mother of Mr. Worsley, and Miss Parcell, aunt of Mr. Barton, received guests.

Dr. Jenkins, William Head, an old family friend, gave the bridal toasts. The three-tier wedding cake, topped with a sprig of heather, was cut by the two couples simultaneously.

For their traveling costumes, both brides wore handwoven mulberry tailored suits, with mink stoles, and matching hats trimmed in mink, black accessories and corsage bouquets of gardenias.

The couples left for up-island honeymoons midst a shower of oaks, rained on them from roof tops.

Mr. and Mrs. Worsley will reside in Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Barton will make their home in Victoria.

Vancouver New Home Of Newlyweds

Vancouver, where the groom is attending University of B.C., is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis George McGee, who were married early in September at Christ Church Cathedral. The bride, the former Miss June Freda Sheppard, is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Sheppard, 1472 Begbie Street. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. G. McGee, Cuidad Trujillo, Republica Dominicana.

Dorothy Harper, Allan Craig Exchange Vows At St. John's

Today at 12.30, marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Dorothy Evelyn Harper, daughter of Mrs. C. W. Harper, 2714 Asquith Street, and the late A. S. Harper, and Allan Gordon Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Craig, 1059 Victoria Avenue.

St. John's Church, decked with colorful autumn blossoms, was the scene of the rites conducted by Rev. George Biddle. F. Chubb presided at the organ.

T. Astley escorted his niece down the church aisle. Her gown of white satin was styled with high neckline, fitted bodice, and full skirt, slightly en train. Fine net misted from a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried American Beauty roses and gardenias arranged cascade style from a white satin hoop. Her only ornament was a garnet necklace, belonging to her mother.

A gown of lime green crepe was worn by maid of honor, Miss Eileen M. Harper, sister of the bride. Mrs. J. Young, Powell River, was dressed in a similar gown of tiger-lily crepe, fashioned with square neckline, cap sleeves, and full flared skirt. Both carried gold and pale cream chrysanthemums in shower bouquets.

J. Burridge acted as best man. Ushers were cousins of the groom, J. Scott and Lieut.-Cmdr. A. Craig.

Mothers of the bride and groom assisted them in welcoming guests at a reception in the Duke of Kent Room, Empress Hotel. J. C. Thow proposed the bride's toast. The three-tier cake was centred on a table covered with a pale green damask cloth.

In view of this satisfactory information, the Local Council of Women has made arrangements with the Metropolitan United Church Board for the use of a room in the Metropolitan Church Sunday School, where parcels of used clothing may be left any time during the week from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Bazaar Plans — Plans for a bazaar to be held in October were discussed at a meeting of Primrose Lodge No. 32, Daughters of England, at a meeting held Friday. The president, Mrs. E. Short, presided and final arrangements were made for a rummage sale in the Hard of Hearing Hall, Douglas Street, on Oct. 11.

I've thrown away Harsh Laxatives
 I found a simple mild remedy for those who have trouble keeping regular—so away with harsh laxatives—which irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition.

Lemon and Water did the Trick
 You, too, may find that the juice of a lemon in a glass of water—when taken daily first thing on arising—insures prompt, normal digestion day after day. Not a purgative, lemon and water simply helps your system regulate itself.

And it's good for you!
 Lemon and water has direct positive health values. Lemons are an excellent source of Vitamin C. They alkalize, aid digestion. Surveys show that over 12,000,000 now take lemons for health.

Keep regular the Healthful way!

For Honeymoon Pair

Honeymooning at Harrison Hot Springs are Elmer Baron and his bride, the former Miss Ruth Ingrid Gustafson, who will make their future home at Revelstoke, B.C.

Marriage vows were exchanged by the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gustafson, 820 Tye Street, and the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Baron, Vernon, B.C., Friday at 8, at First Baptist Church, with Rev. G. R. Easter officiating. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Nancy Crayen sang "Through the Years."

Entering the church with her father, the bride was gown in white lace, the full skirt enriched with lace insets. A beaded coronet held her floor-length embroidered veil, and she wore elbow-length mitts. Red roses and gardenias were showered with swainsonia in her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Mary Gustafson, matron of honor for her sister-in-law, was gown in orchid taffeta, with matching gloves. Her bouquet was of pink carnations, white chrysanthemums, and she wore a bandeau of similar blossoms.

Bridesmaids, Miss Karen Gustafson, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Hamilton, wore identical gowns of pastel green and yellow lace with nylon sheer skirts featuring lace insets. Both wore matching mitts and carried bouquets of mauve chrysanthemums and yellow gladioli, to match their bandeaus.

Lewis Eilers was best man and ushering were John Gustafson and John Duncan.

G. Hedblom proposed the toast to the bride at a reception at the K&K Kat Banquet Hall. Mrs. Gustafson and Mrs. Eilers received guests with the couple. Pink rosebuds topped the three-tier wedding cake which centred the bride's table.

For her traveling ensemble the bride chose a grey gabardine suit, pink accessories and corsage bouquet of orchid.

Church Parade—Plans for a church parade on Moose Heart Day were made at a meeting of the Victoria Chapter, No. 25, Women of the Moose. Senior Regent Violet Warren presided and discussion took place as to the need for donations of baby clothes, also small articles for bingo prizes. Plans were also made to move to a new hall. Social hour concluded the meeting.

Out Wedding-Gown Shopping?

LONDON (AP)—Princess Elizabeth—keeping secret the details of her wedding dress—came home from Balmoral Castle in Scotland today to carry on preparations for her marriage Nov. 20 to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

All the belles of Mayfair—and many commercial dress manufacturers besides—were wondering about the details of the wedding gown, but neither the princess, nor the Buckingham Palace press officer, nor royal dressmaker

Norman Hartnell would do any talking. Princess Elizabeth herself decreed that no description should be made public until the day of the wedding.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman said manufacturers, including some Americans, were anxious to mass-produce it. The princess arrived by train from Scotland accompanied by the King, Princess Margaret and the Duke of Gloucester.

Jill Tar Club—Opening meeting of the season was held by the Jill Tar Club last Thursday at the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. J. Caddick presided and four new members were welcomed. After business, the evening was spent in designing membership pins, under the direction of Mrs. B. Bowden. Refreshments were served under convener'ship of Mrs. J. Galbraith.

India Missionary—Miss Ann Munro, missionary on furlough from Baptist Mission Field in India, addressed members of the First Baptist Women's Union, at their luncheon meeting held in the First Baptist Church. Miss Munro was presented with a corsage bouquet by president Mrs. N. Phillips. Also on the program were Mrs. E. Elsey, president of the B. to M.S., for B.C., and Mrs. J. J. Ross, both of Vancouver. Mrs. W. P. Gruman gave the devotional. Vocal selections were given by Mrs. Ron Coles accompanied by Mrs. R. C. Coles. Mrs. G. Bishop was in charge of arrangements and was assisted by Mesdames L. Beatty, M. Anderson, F. Pearce, D. Preray, Main, G. Holt, G. Johnston, S. Gilson and F. Worthy. Members of Emmanuel and Douglas Street Baptist Churches were also guests.

Tillicums—A joint meeting of Tillicum Company and Pack was held for a "flying-up" ceremony. Mrs. Freeman King, divisional commissioner, presented badges to Rosemary Heavener and Roberta Ballantyne. Marilyn Ballantyne presented the thanks badge to Mrs. McIntyre on behalf of the pack. Mrs. King presented Brownie wings to the following Brownies as they left the Fairy Ring: Sylvia Gill, Joyce Kohut, Anita Baird, Roberta Ballantyne and Rosemary Heavener. Guide and Brownie taps ended the ceremony.

HISTORIC MEDICAL
HIGHLIGHTS—No. 23VICTORY
OVER PAIN

It was a young Boston dentist who did most to introduce anaesthetics into surgical use. William Morton's discoveries were inspired by wanting to reduce his patients' suffering when he removed tooth roots preparatory to installing his new dental plates. Charles Jackson, Boston chemist, suggested ether to him, and Morton successfully used the gas in an extraction in 1846. Later, he publicly administered ether for a surgical operation at the Massachusetts General Hospital, introducing ether's benefits to the medical world.

We are deeply conscious of our obligations in taking a part in the battle against illness and suffering. Our professional tasks are therefore done with perfected skill and knowledge to assure ourselves—and you—that they shall be done right.

Heirloom Ring
Used In Wedding

A wedding ring bearing the inscription "United in love, no more to rove," and handed down from the maternal third great-grandmother of bride, was used in the marriage ceremony at Metropolitan United Church Saturday evening.

Wedding principals were Miss Dorothy Lavinia, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown, 1149 Faithful Street, and Larry Donald Evenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Evenson, Lethbridge, Alta. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse officiated. Wedding music was played by the bride's mother.

An heirloom veil, worn by the bride's grandmother on her wedding day, cascaded over her gown of white chiffon, fashioned on classic Grecian lines. She carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and Tailsman roses. Mr. Brown gave his daughter in marriage.

Carrying a similar bouquet to that of the bride was Mrs. Fred Trent, Port Alberni, a matron of honor for her sister. She was gown in turquoise blue chiffon.

The groom was attended by Fred Trent, Philip Brown, brother of the bride, was usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Dr. Whitehouse gave the toast to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Evenson left for their new home at Lund, B.C. The bride, a graduate of St. Paul's Hospital, and formerly on the staff of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, donned a powder blue wool dress, brown hat and muskrat fur coat for traveling.

Makes Fewer Movies Because Income Tax Takes So Large Slice

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Barbara Stanwyck is working before the cameras for the first time since February and the reason for her idleness was taxes.

"It's silly to make as many pictures as I did last year," she said. "I netted a total of $7,000 for working in 'California.' I was paid $9,000 for two radio shows and could keep $600.

"Why won't they let us give it away to charity? All I can give away now is $15,000. If the government would let us give more away, we wouldn't mind working more."

NEW CHAPLIN?

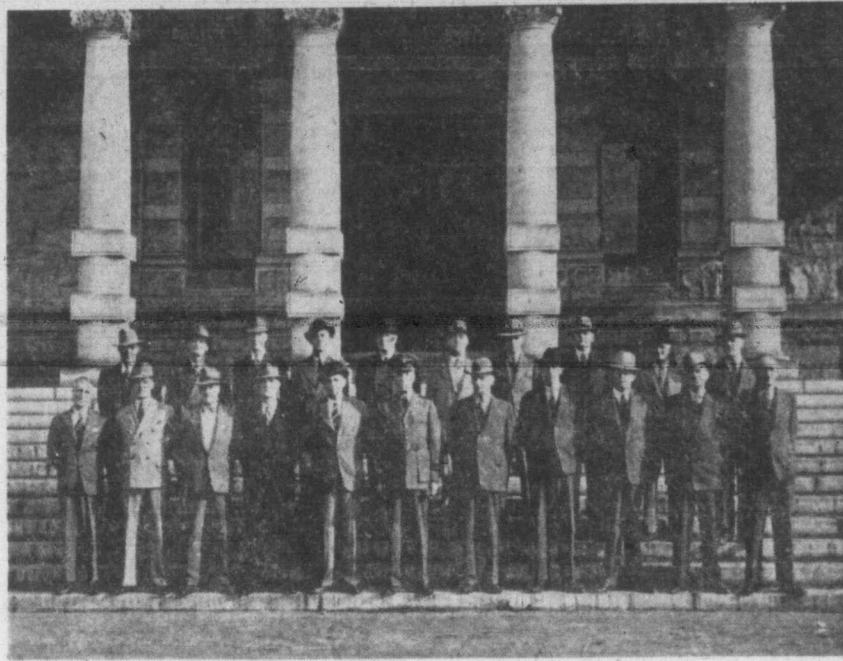

Charlie Chaplin, insiders report, thinks the poor business of his new film in New York was due to unfavorable public opinion of himself, rather than because of the picture's merits. So his new publicity campaign is aimed at improving the public's conception of him. Many observers feel the film would do better if it had a good cutting job, but its creator won't hear of that.

Joan Fontaine says she's "happiest while doing melodramas and she has a heavy load of them lined up for her. After the current 'Letters From an Unknown Woman' comes 'Thunder on the Hill.' She, Sam Goldwyn and Gregory Peck have agreed to postpone 'Earth and High Heaven,' from the book written by Gwethalyn Graham, Montreal, until late 1948. It's about anti-semitism and there have been several such films this year.

buy a new wardrobe ("The one I had at the start of the picture is out of date") and take a long trip, probably to South America.

Eddie Cantor will have his childhood school teacher on his air show tonight to kick off a campaign for better teaching pay. Wisconsin's Governor Rennebohm, they would have us believe, was visiting Dennis Morgan on "To the Victor" and was mistaken for an extra by the assistant director. So now he is in the picture.

"Magic Town" (RKO) is a near miss. The idea is original—an opinion pollster who finds a perfect American cross-section in a small town. But its intentions bog down in misplaced sentiment. James Stewart and Jane Wyman do valiant work to make the thing believable, but they are up against one of the worst cutting jobs of the year.

'Barbary Coast' Old West Story

There is enough color for a hundred novels in the real lives of the men who play the Vigilantes, miners, gamblers and bar-tenders in "Barbary Coast," Samuel Goldwyn's colorful drama now playing at the Rio Theatre.

To get the greatest accuracy and realism into their picture, Director Howard Hawks and producer Samuel Goldwyn secured for these roles as many possible with such experiences in their careers.

'Variety Girl,' Showing At Royal

More than 40 of Hollywood's brightest stars are in the cast of Paramount's record-breaking romantic musical comedy, "Variety Girl," which opened today at the Royal Theatre.

Most of the stars, headed by Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Ray Milland, Alan Ladd, Barbara Stanwyck, Paulette Goddard, Veronica Lake, Burt Lancaster, Dorothy Lamour and Sonny Tufts, contribute at least one specialty number to the film, and the circus finale is made up of the entire cast.

Playing the story leads in "Variety Girl" are Mary Hatcher, star of the Broadway musical, "Oklahoma," Olga San Juan and De Forest Kelley.

Stickpin Brings Romance To Ginger

A diamond and pearl stickpin starts Ginger Rogers in a gay mix-up of affairs in her latest picture, "Heartbeat," now at the Atlas Theatre.

It is the story of a young girl in Paris, who can't establish her place in society until she marries. Not having the means to carry out this plan, she is forced to steal a stickpin, and that starts her on her way to romantic adventures. With Ginger in the picture are Jean Pierre Aumont, Adolphe Menjou and Basil Rathbone.

"Oklahoma," Olga San Juan and De Forest Kelley.

'The Long Night' On Capitol Screen

Hakim-Litvak's "The Long Night," current attraction at the Capitol Theatre, is an absorbing love story of a boy and a girl struggling desperately for happiness against the sinister influence of an older man. Co-stars Henry Fonda, Barbara Bel Geddes, Vincent Price and Ann Dvorak deliver memorable performances which combine to create strong emotional pull.

Henry Fonda as a young steel worker, enacts one of his few really romantic roles in a long career. After winning many of the important Broadway stage awards, Barbara Bel Geddes introduces a completely new personality to the screen in her portrayal of the heroine.

Abbott And Costello In Riotous Comedy

Smiles, guffaws and roars of laughter filled the auditorium of the Plaza Theatre when Abbott and Costello's newest Universal-International comedy, "Buck Privates Come Home," opened today. This is one of the best and funniest Abbott and Costello screen vehicles.

"Buck Privates Come Home" is a sequel to "Buck Privates," the team's first starring production made in 1941. Using only the basic idea of the former success, the present film is packed with new laugh-provoking comedy techniques impressed on a story that's certain to please all theatregoers.

Chopin Tune Titles Stump Film Crew

With playbacks of Chopin music behind nearly every scene in "A Song to Remember," currently starring Paul Muni and Merle Oberon at the York Theatre, the crew of this Columbia Technicolor production became familiar with notes of the composer's music, but still had a hard time with titles.

The reason is that Chopin gave names to only a few of his pieces, such as Butterfly Etude, Minute

Dietrich Dances, Sings In 'Kismet'

Marlene Dietrich not only sings in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Kismet," but dances, too!

As queen of Bagdad's dancers in the Technicolor spectacle, opening today at the Oak Bay Theatre, Marlene does a nautch dance which she has started rehearsing with Jack Cole, national authority on East Indian routines and dance director of the picture. She also sings an Oriental love song to Ronald Colman, who portrays the adventurous beggar-magician of the romantic tale set in Bagdad of a thousand years ago.

DOMINION THEATRE
Frances Gifford has been given a new title—"Most Photographed Girl in Pictures." Since completing her role with John Hodiak and George Murphy in "The Arnold Affair," now showing on the Dominion screen, she has spent every weekday posing for still pictures to fill requests received at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in recent weeks. In 10 days she has been photographed 516 times.

Shape Program For Victoria's Blind

An active winter program is being arranged for Victoria White Cane Club, affiliated with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, under the presidency of Mrs. Elizabeth Watling.

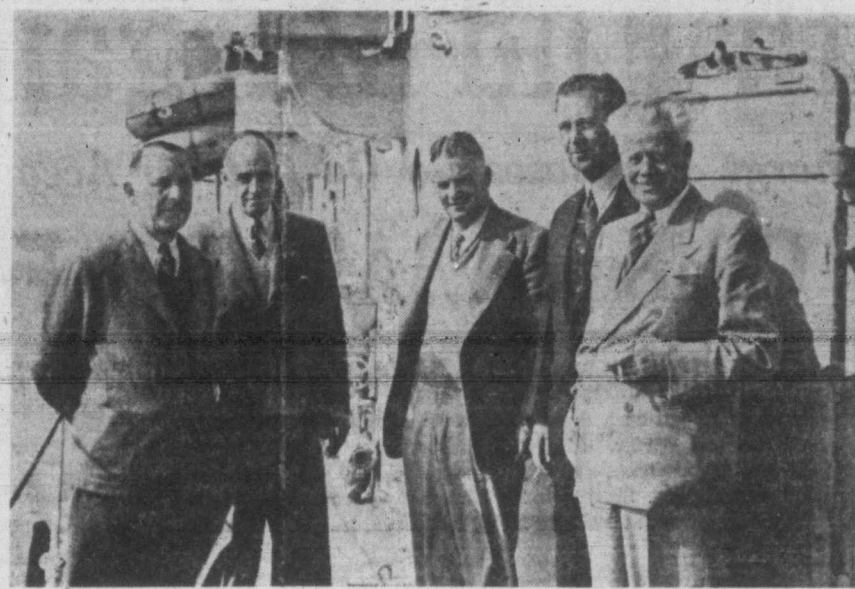

The club will carry out "Empire Information" study under the chairmanship of J. A. Browning. They offer an opportunity for intellectual debates during the winter. In training at the present time are two bowling teams, one for each sex.

The Victoria choir of blind singers, under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Mellish, will give a concert for the patients and staff of the Victoria Nursing Home tomorrow. On Wednesday the club will stage a musical afternoon at Prince Robert House.

During the summer months Archie McKinnon, coach of the famed "Flying Y" swimming club, gave the blind members lessons in swimming at the Crystal Garden.

Gallup Poll

Peoples Of 9 United Nations Voice Fear For Lasting Peace

With the delegates of 57 United Nations to the second General Assembly are the hopes and prayers of their peoples for success in building a world order of peace and justice.

That peoples in all nations are awake to the grim realities of international tension and soberly conscious of the danger of war, is revealed in the results of latest coincidental opinion poll conducted by the International Association of Public Opinion Institutes in nine representative nations.

In each country, an accurate cross-section of adult persons of every class was asked:

"Do you think there will, or will not be another war within the next 10 years?"

The weight of opinion in seven out of the nine nations leans to the view that war is likely:

	Will Be War	Will Not Be War	No Opinion
United States	53	20	27
Sweden	53	27	20
Norway	51	27	22
Great Britain	48	21	31
Denmark	45	27	28
CANADA	42	33	25
Netherlands	39	43	18
France	38	35	27
Australia	35	30	35

In Norway and Sweden the question asked referred to 25 years rather than 10 years.

In the United States, a separate cross-section of voters, when asked the question on the basis of 25 years, returned the following comparative response:

	Within 25 Years	Within 10 Years
U.S. Opinion	75	53
Will not	16	36
No opinion	9	11

In Britain and Canada, too, considerable numbers of persons said they "expected war but not within 10 years."

In all countries surveyed, many of those classified as having "no opinion" expressed a qualified view, usually in such statements as "there will be war if better order is not restored in the world"; "war will be prevented if the United Nations succeed in settling differences."

Within Canada, opinion on the subject is most pessimistic in the Maritimes, most optimistic in Ontario and British Columbia, where the majority of voters with a clear-cut opinion think peace will be maintained over the next 10 years.

Canadians with higher education, particularly the university-trained voters, are more confident of enduring peace than those with less education. More lower-income citizens took a gloomy view of prospects for peace than is the number amongst the higher-income groups.

Farm opinion in Canada is roughly parallel with that of urban area voters. In general, the Canadian viewpoint on the subject is unaffected by political differences; supporters of the various political parties express roughly the same average division of opinion.

DRESSES OF GREEK WOMEN REACHED TO THEIR SANDALS

Lately there has been a great deal of talking and writing about women's dress. Those who are supposed to control fashions have placed dresses and skirts on the market which reach well below the knees. Thousands of young women have voiced their feelings against this "new fashion," and some have said that they never will wear long skirts again.

The present century has seen a great deal of changing in the length of dresses and skirts. Since the year 1900, the makers of feminine clothing have provided women with every length of garment from the ground to the knee. There were few changes of this sort in other centuries.

Women of ancient Greece had nothing to worry about in regard to such a matter. They wore dresses which reached to their sandals, and that was the end of it.

Greek women spent most of their time inside their homes, and it was the custom for them to wear "chitons" while indoors. The chitons hung from the shoulders to the ankles. Usually it was without sleeves, but there were half-sleeves in some cases. Pins were used to fasten parts of the chiton together, and often the pins were of the type of the modern safety pin.

Although Greek women seldom walked in the street, there were times when they were allowed to do so. One such time was on a day of procession of religion.

When she went outdoors, a woman wore a loose garment over her chiton. This was hardly more than a piece of cloth draped from the shoulders, after the manner of a shawl.

Most of the dresses worn by Greek women were white. Some, however, had clothing of brown, yellow or purple color.

It was a common thing for a woman to blacken her eyebrows and to put a red coloring on her cheeks. If she perspired in hot weather, there was trouble—streaks of black or red would appear on her face.

Greek women led sheltered lives, as a rule, but a few of them became widely known. One of these was Sappho, who wrote some of the most beautiful poems ever produced. In honor of her poetry, she has been termed "the tenth Muse," her name being added to those of the nine goddesses who were Muses in the lore of the ancient Greeks.

Halsey's Candor Angers Methodists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Methodist Board of Temperance has come up fighting at Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey's remark that "as a general rule, I never trust a fighting man who doesn't smoke or drink."

"Shocking," said the board. "Admiral Halsey's unfortunate statement is exceedingly injurious to the navy."

In a discussion that filled six newspaper columns of its publication clip-sheet, the Methodists asserted:

"Many of the greatest military men the world has produced have been notably abstemious."

The Methodists passed out their own verdict on whisky and fighting men:

"Drinking frequently makes a man fight; it does it in thousands of saloons every day, but we have never known it to make anyone fight better."

The article was not signed. In San Francisco, Halsey, who has retired from the United States Navy, said he had "no comment."

Spirited Action In Soccer Opener

Ian McKay, lanky netminder of Nanaimo United, came far out of his net to snare a loose ball in the opening soccer game of the Pacific Coast League season Saturday between United and Nanaimo. Andy Anderson, right winger, and Joe Robbins, centre-forward for the locals, came in fast on the ball but McKay saved on this play as he did several times during the contest. Victoria won the game, 6 to 1.

United Display Power In Defeating Nanaimo

Victoria United opened the 1947 Pacific Coast League soccer schedule in fine style Saturday by handing Nanaimo United a 6 to 1 trouncing at Athletic Park before over 1,000 fans. Ab Travis, speedy inside left, and Lou Heppenstall, inside right, paced the locals to their one-sided victory. Travis banging home three goals and Heppenstall two.

Starting off at a terrific pace, Roy Barnes eleven ran Nanaimo off their feet in the opening half and kept the play in the up-landers section for almost the entire 45 minutes.

Ab Travis notched the first United goal and the first of the season at the 25-minute mark, taking a pass from Heppenstall in front of the net for the score. Travis then tallied his second counter at the 40-minute mark on a double pass from Heppenstall and Anderson.

Anderson crossed a beauty to Heppenstall just before intermission for United's third marker and the locals led, 3 to 0, at the half.

Play became a little ragged as the second half got under way, with both teams showing the effects of the pace of the first half. Earl Barnswell replaced Anderson and Nip Sage replaced Noel Morgan for United.

At the 10-minute mark Travis banged home his third goal of the game on a solo effort right down the middle.

It wasn't until 15 minutes had been played in the second half that Nanaimo got their first real shot on the United net. Myers skyed one over the bar from about 20 feet. A few plays later centreforward Myers beat Moss from a scramble in front of the net for the coastowners' lone tally. Moss had no chance on the play.

George Forbes, recent addition to the squad from Scotland, moved up to right wing after turning in a bang-up game at centrehalf and scored United's fifth goal, beating Ian McKay with a low shot to the right-hand corner of the net. Heppenstall added the final goal a few minutes before time, booting home his own rebound.

For United, Forbes, Heppenstall, Red McMillan, Travis and Bobby Moss looked good. McKay, lanky goaltender, was outstanding for Nanaimo. He saved on numerous occasions when it appeared certain that Victoria would add to their total. Alvin Parks was always dangerous for Nanaimo, but Forbes did a wonderful job guarding the veteran centreforward.

North Shore edged St. Savours, 2 to 1, in the opening game of the season at Vancouver. Dave Stewart scored both goals for the winners. Bill Hodge tallied for the losers.

20,000,000 Customers See Major League Ball

Major league baseball for the 1947 season is ended for everybody but the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees today, but few of the more than the record 20,000,000 paying customers who have watched the big league stars perform will forget the tumultuous events which have occurred during the past six months.

Ben Hogan Captures $5,000 Golf Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., who earlier this year scorned to play for promoter George S. May, yesterday won May's second international golf tournament with a nine-under-par 135 to grab the $5,000 first prize.

Hogan closed the 36-hole showdown among eight hand-picked players with a two-under-standard 70, finishing three strokes ahead of South African Bobby Locke.

Little Ben's triumph vaulted him atop the professionals in 1947 money-winning with $27,310.

First of all, they have seen baseball history created when Jackie Robinson made his debut with the Dodgers to become the first negro to crash the majors in modern times.

Then the fans saw the peculiar picture of a New York Giant team smash out a record-breaking 221 homers and yet wind up fourth in the standings, 13 games off the pace. Led by Johnny Mize, Willard Marshall, Walker Cooper and Bobby Thomson, who collected 151 circuit blows among them, the Giants broke the old mark of 182 set by the 1936 New York Yankees.

Mize crashed 51 to tie Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh for the Major League lead and fall five behind Hack Wilson's National League record of 56 and nine behind Babe Ruth's Major League standard of 60.

The 1947 season also saw the suspension of Leo Durocher by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler as manager of the Dodgers for "conduct unbecoming a major league manager" and the insertion of Burt Shotton to replace him.

The Yankees in cruising to their 15th pennant, tied a 41-year-old record by stringing together 19 straight victories. The old Chicago White Sox of 1906 were the only other club to do it.

BLACKWELL TOPS PITCHERS
The best pitching feat was turned in by sophomore pitcher Ewell Blackwell, who registered 16 straight victories during one stretch to easily rank as the number one pitcher of the year.

The Cincinnati Red hurler also pitched a no-run, no-hit game and came within two outs of tying Johnny Vandermeer's record of two straight no-hitters when he followed his hitless game with an 8 1/3 hitless inning job against the Dodgers before Ed Stanky singled through his legs in the ninth inning.

Pitchers Don Black of the Indians and Bill McCahan of the Athletics also hurled no-run, no-hit games. Feller and Newhouse proved pitching disappointments. Regarded as the two top pitchers in baseball and reported to be earning $80,000 and $60,000, respectively, Feller was just able to reach 20 wins while Newhouse wound up with a 17 and 17 record.

OLD-TIMERS PLAY
The Yankees closed their season yesterday by drawing 25,000 for the old-timers game which saw a team composed of old time American League stars, headed by Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker lose to a team of former Yankees 3 to 0 in a two-inning exhibition "game."

The Yankees defeated the fifth place Athletics 5 to 2 in the regularly scheduled game to win the American League flag by 12 games. The Tigers defeated the Indians 1 to 0 as Fred Hutchinson bested Bob Feller to retain second place by two games over the defending champion Red Sox who lost to seventh-place Washington 5 to 1. Although Dizzy Dean, former great of the Cardinals of the '30s, pitched four scoreless innings in his first big league appearance since his retirement in 1940, the last-place Browns were beaten by the sixth-place White Sox 5 to 2 as the Sox scored all their runs in the ninth against Glen Moulder who had relieved Dean in the fifth.

The third-place Braves nipped the Dodgers 3 to 2 in the ninth inning. And the fourth-place Giants and seventh-place Phils split a double header, the Giants winning the opener 4 to 1 and the Phils taking the Second 3 to 1.

Johnny Schmitz pitched the sixth-place Chicago Cubs to a 3 to 0 victory over the second-place Cardinals while Ernie Bonham pitched a two-hit 5 to 0 win for the Pirates over the fifth-place Cincinnati Reds.

The Rest Scores Cricket Victory

Final cricket match of the season Saturday saw The Rest defeat the league champion Five C's, 113 to 62. Reg Wenman starred for The Rest, knocking up 38 runs and taking seven wickets for 30 runs.

Also starring with the bat for The Rest was Brewin with 31. Payne was high bat for the C's with 23, followed by Harper with 20.

Angels, Seals Meet In Sudden-Death Tilt For Coast Title

For the first time in its 44-year history, the Pacific Coast League saw its pennant race wind up in a dead heat as the 1947 regular season ended Sunday with San Francisco and Los Angeles tied at 105 wins, 81 defeats and a 564 percentage.

The two clubs will meet in a single game playoff for the pennant tonight at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles.

The final-week pressure told as both the Seals and Angels lost second games of doubleheaders with San Diego and Sacramento respectively.

Max West's three-run homer in the ninth inning gave San Diego a 6 to 3 win and prevented San Francisco from clinching the flag, after the Angels had been spilled, 1 to 0, earlier by Sacramento's Rex Cecil.

In first games, San Francisco beat San Diego, 9 to 3, and Los Angeles defeated Sacramento, 6 to 1.

Portland grabbed third place in the final standings by sweeping a pair from Hollywood, 4 to 2 and 5 to 4, while Oakland split with Seattle, 3 to 2 in 12 innings, and 0 to 2. The Beavers thus finished one game ahead of the Oaks. The two teams were tied going into the last day.

President's Cup playoffs will begin Tuesday with Portland meeting the pennant winner, and Oakland taking on the second place finisher, after those places are determined by the San Francisco-Los Angeles pennant-bearing game.

First Game: S. H. E. Los Angeles 6, 11, 0. Batteries—Adams and Malone; Rippe, Clementien (4), McCollum (4), Day (3) and Fitzgerald.
Second: Los Angeles 3, 0, 0. Batteries—Lynn and Malone; Cecil and Fitzgerald.
First Game: Portland 4, 8, 3. Batteries—Bahr and Muratov; Ballinger (7), Adams, Seward (3) and Sheen; Unser (3).
Second: Portland 2, 5, 2. Batteries—Bahr and Muratov; Ballinger (7), Adams, Seward (3) and Sheen; Unser (3).
First Game: Hollywood 5, 2, 0. Batteries—Banco, Dilani (3), Adams and Muratov; Ballinger (4); Waterstein, Huffer (2) and Unser; Shely (7).
Second: Hollywood 3, 10, 3. Batteries—Hall and Stumpf; Menzies (3), Braden and Ramond.
First Game: Seattle 3, 0, 0. Batteries—Beasley, Reis (3) and Stumpf; Hall and Lillard.
Second: Seattle 8, 14, 0. Batteries—Milton, Chenes (7) and Gladd; Sesta, Oles (3) and Rice.
First Game: San Francisco 3, 0, 0. Batteries—Wierle, Budnick (3), Lien (4) and Leonard; Gladd (3); Salvo, Kerrigan (3) and Kerr, Rice (3).
Second: San Francisco 3, 0, 0. Batteries—Wierle, Budnick (3), Lien (4) and Leonard; Gladd (3); Salvo, Kerrigan (3) and Kerr, Rice (3).

Louise Suggs Wins U.S. Amateur Golf
Sun-tanned Louise Suggs Saturday won the 1947 United States Women's Amateur Golf championship in a sensational finish from a fellow Georgian who went down to defeat after a heart-breaking challenge in the home stretch.

The tall silver cup went to Miss Suggs and the scoreboard recorded the title winning feat as a two-up victory which came on the final green of the 36-hole championship battle. The loser was slender Dorothy Kirby, 27-year-old Atlantan who rallied spectacularly only to lose for the second time as she had the title within her grasp.

The secretary's trophy for the high tyro in the match was taken by Sgt. George Knight of the Canadian Scottish, who finished at 265, one point in front of Pte. J. A. Jones of the same unit.

At the close of the third stage the pair were tied with scores of 277. In a five-round shoot-out at 1,000 yards Ashe posted a 23 to Rasmussen's 19.

Shea Opposes Branca In First Series Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Freshman Frank (Spec) Shea, named by manager Bucky Harris to pitch tomorrow's world series opener for the New York Yankees, probably will be opposed by 21-year-old Ralph Branca, Brooklyn's ace 21-game winner, with Lefty Vic Lombardi a strong second choice.

Harris tabbed Shea, the first American League rookie ever to hurl the first game of a series, for opening duty after yesterday's season finale with the Athletics, but manager Burt Shotton still refused to name his starting Dodger.

Branca, the top man of the staff on the won and lost records, is the best bet. If Shotton operates on the theory that left-handed pitching is his best bet against the Yankees, he may call on Lombardi, a half-pint southpaw who makes up for lack of a zooming fast ball with a cule curling curve and good control.

The Yankee line-up will carry no surprises. Harris disclosed he will follow his customary batting order with George Stirmweiss at second base, Tommy Henrich in right field, Larry Berra, catching, Joe DiMaggio in center field, George McQuinn on first base, Bill Johnson at third base, Johnny Lindell in left field, Phil Rizzuto at shortstop, and Shea.

Against Shea is the fact that he came up with a sore arm in early July and did not pitch a complete game from July 5 until Sept. 18. However, his last two outings, a four-hitter against the White Sox and a two-hitter against Washington, indicate he is ready. His season record is 14 and 5 as compared to Branca's 21 and 12.

On the basis of their pitching staff and a decided edge in the outfield combination of DiMaggio, Henrich, and Lindell, the Yankees remained heavy favorites of about 2 to 1.

The Yanks will be shooting for their 11th triumph in 15 series and the Dodgers still are looking for their first win after failures in 1916, 1920 and 1941.

The tall silver cup went to Miss Suggs and the scoreboard recorded the title winning feat as a two-up victory which came on the final green of the 36-hole championship battle. The loser was slender Dorothy Kirby, 27-year-old Atlantan who rallied spectacularly only to lose for the second time as she had the title within her grasp.

The secretary's trophy for the high tyro in the match was taken by Sgt. George Knight of the Canadian Scottish, who finished at 265, one point in front of Pte. J. A. Jones of the same unit.

At the close of the third stage the pair were tied with scores of 277. In a five-round shoot-out at 1,000 yards Ashe posted a 23 to Rasmussen's 19.

Odeon Cubs Share Provincial Softball Title With Hedlunds
Odeon Cubs, provincial senior B softball titlists who challenged Hedlund of Vancouver, senior A champs, in a three-game playoff at Ladysmith and Nanaimo over the week-end, ended up all square with the mainland squad, each team capturing one game and the other ending in a deadlock. As a result, teams were named co-holders of the senior A provincial title for the year.

Hedlunds captured the first game Saturday, 6 to 3, but the island squad came back in the first game Sunday with Pettigrew and Ballance combining for a 7 to 6 decision. Ballance was elected again for the third game and she came through in fine style, holding the Vancouver nine to a 2-all sawoff.

Cracks Swim Record
CASABLANCA, French Morocco (AP)—Alex. Jany, French swimming ace, bettered a world record today when he swam the 300-metre free style in 3:21, surpassing the previous mark of 3:21.6 held by Jack Medica of the United States.

Leading Jockey Honored

Billy Robertson, 16-year-old apprentice jockey from California, who captured riding honors at the 14-day race meeting which concluded at the Willows Saturday, receives a fox fur donated by Alf Hyams of the New York Fur Co., Vancouver, from Miss June Short, Earle Lewis, presiding steward, prepares to congratulate Robertson.

Walker, Williams Win Major Batting Titles

Harry Walker of the Philadelphia Phillies and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox are the new Major League batting champions, displacing Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards and Mickey Vernon of Washington.

Unofficial averages, including yesterday's final games, give Walker a .362 mark for a comfortable 45-point edge over runner-up Bob Elliott of Boston at .317. Williams' .343 average was 13 points better than Barney McCosky of Philadelphia who finished second at .330.

Walker, traded by St. Louis Cards to the Phillies in early May, thus rounds out the first brother team ever to cop the championship. Dixie Walker of Brooklyn, Harry's brother, won in 1944.

It was Williams' third batting crown, climaxing a late season spurt after a disappointing start. He had won with a .406 average in 1941 and at .356 in 1942. Last year he was runner-up to Vernon with .342.

Behind Walker and Elliott in the National came Augie Galan of Cincinnati at .314. All three leaders had been sold since last season. Elliott was sent by Pittsburgh to Boston and Galan went to the Reds from Brooklyn for Ed Heusser.

Galan was third at .314, followed by Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh who hit 51 homers to the tie New York's Johnny Mize. Kiner hit .313, Musial .311, Whitey Kurowski of St. Louis .310; Phil Cavarretta of Chicago .309; Tommy Holmes of Boston and Pete Reiser of Brooklyn, .308 each and Dixie Walker of Brooklyn .306.

American League averages behind Williams and McCosky showed Johnny Pesky of Boston and Taft Wright of Chicago, tied for third at .324 with Detroit's George Kell fifth at .320. Dale Mitchell of Cleveland, the only rookie to make the top 10 in either league, held sixth at .316 with New York's Joe DiMaggio right behind at .315. Lou Boudreau of Cleveland was eighth at .307 followed by Chicago's Luke Appling .306 and New York's George McQuinn .304.

Blessed are the poor. They can inherit a little property without having to pay more tax than the stuff is worth.

51,573 Turn Out See Armed Trim Assault Easily

NEW YORK (AP)—Armed defeated Assault in their $100,000 match race at Belmont Park Saturday.

Armed won by six lengths. A crowd of 51,573 turned out for the event.

The time for the 1 1/4 miles was 2:02 4-5.

There was no betting on the race, because of recent uncertainty about Assault's condition. He turned up lame after a workout Thursday.

Each horse carried 126 pounds in the weight-for-age event. Doug Dodson rode Armed and Eddie Arcaro piloted Assault.

Armed led all the way, just as he was expected to do. Assault, winner of last year's triple crown, made one move, just as they were rounding the stretch turn, but after pulling up to be within a length and a half, he fell back again, despite Arcaro's urging with the whip.

The match, talked of since last winter as the race-of-the-year, was a winner-take-all basis. The $100,000 purse boosted Armed's earnings to $742,900, as he came within easy distance of overhauling Stymlie at the head of the turf's all-time money-winning list.

Owner Warren Wright had said that if the six-year-old Armed, who is ranked with Exterminator as the greatest geldings in history, won, he would donate the net proceeds—some $7,000—to charity.

Bus And Boy Cyclist In Accident

B.C. Electric bus off road at Shelbourne and Myrtle Streets after it had been in collision with eight-year-old Ivan Devlin, a cyclist.

Head injuries and bruises, reported as not serious, were suffered by Ivan Devlin, aged 8, 2760 Shelbourne Street, at 8.45 this morning in an accident which occurred between the bicycle he was riding and a B.C.E.R. bus, in charge of George Earl, 2137 Spring Road at Shelbourne and Myrtle Streets.

The quick action of the bus driver in immediately swerving the passenger vehicle off the road to collide with a telephone pole, is credited by eye-witnesses as being the act that prevented the accident from being a serious one.

Inspector John Blackstock and Constables, Alex Nichol, Jack Perry and Nap Bouchard attended the scene in response to the telephoned summons of bus driver Earl.

The cyclist and the bus were proceeding north on Shelbourne when the accident occurred, the driver swerving the bus on first contact.

Police took the boy to Jubilee Hospital where he was first attended by Dr. Jack Patterson, interne, and later by Dr. L. L. Pitak.

Town Topics

New cases of poliomyelitis from Nakusp and Kimberley, reported today by the Provincial Health Department, have raised the provincial total for the year to 257.

On Saturday, patients from the Veterans' Hospital were guests of the Hiker Attractions and the American Savoy Company at the presentation of H.M.S. Pinafore at the York Theatre.

Oak Bay has granted permission for a tag day next Saturday for the 'Parcels for Britain' fund, Mayor Percy George was informed today.

Ship's company will parade on Friday at 7.30 at Headquarters R.C.S.C. Rainbow. Any boy over the age of 14 years and 5 ft. 3 in. in height wishing to join the sea cadets, is asked to report to R.C.S.C. Rainbow.

The Youth Hostels Association has written the City Council asking that bicycle stands be erected in the downtown areas as it is almost impossible for a cyclist to find a safe parking spot for his bicycle.

The Victoria Medical Society has written the City Council asking for clarification of how the parking meter by-law affects rights and privileges of doctors in parking their cars. They ask that doctors be allowed to pay a monthly fee for parking privileges, and provided with a sticker to identify their cars.

Building permits have been issued to J. E. Astrope to convert a rooming house at 1009 Burdett Avenue to a five-apartment building, at a cost of $9,500; to Mrs. M. M. Coutas to convert at 1626 Rockland Avenue to a duplex, $6,000; and to Mrs. D. Arnot to convert 521 Linden Avenue to four suites, $3,500.

Motorists are being fined in a greater number each day for having vehicles parked by meters with "violation" showing. In court this morning 21 were fined $1 for this violation. Fourteen paid $2.50 each for other parking infractions, two $15 each for speeding, and one $1 and $2.50 costs for not having a 1947 radio license.

John Kane pleaded guilty at a special session of Saanich Police Court this morning to a charge of dangerous driving which arose from an accident at Palmouth and Saanich Roads Saturday night and was fined $35 by Magistrate H. C. Hall. He was also fined $5 for not being able to produce his driver's license and his drivers' license was suspended for three months.

Thomas Maxwell pleaded guilty to driving a car while intoxicated Saturday night on Johnson Street in city police court this morning and was sentenced to seven days in jail by Magistrate H. C. Hall. There is no alternative of a fine for this offence. The magistrate also suspended accused's driver's license for six months. Charge arose from an accident Maxwell was involved in.

Rev. W. C. Smalley, D.D., of Edmonton, general secretary of the Baptist Union of western Canada and Rev. J. L. Sloat, D.D., of Vancouver, will be in Victoria this week to take part in the ordination of J. C. A. Barten, B.A., B.D., who recently took over the ministry of the Douglas Street Church. The ceremony will take place at 7.30 Wednesday evening. Preceding this event will be a gathering of Baptists of the island at 2 in the afternoon for a reorganization of the association.

Women's Jobs, Applicants Break Even, Employers Asking For 'Hometown' Girls

Job prospects for women in Victoria are brighter today than they ever were in the days before the war, according to Isabel Bescoby, supervisor, women's division of the Victoria office, National Employment Service.

"The employment picture here for women is definitely satisfactory with the number of applicants registering and the number of vacancies on the striking as near a balance as possible," Miss Bescoby said.

TO PREWAR CONDITIONS

Before going further, however, she stated that Victoria employers were reverting to normal prewar conditions in respect of preference for hometown girls rather than those from outside. Employers who say they have vacancies to fill today, will leave the vacancies unfilled until they get exactly the type of employee they are seeking, she added.

"No employer is desperate for just any kind of help today. That era is definitely over. However, if a girl comes in here, fully qualified in her line of work, she is not kept waiting long before an opening is found, if one is not already on file."

Questions first asked by the majority of applicants are on working conditions, then hours, and, thirdly, on wages, she said. Women 40 and over might query on the subject of job security but the majority under that age, especially if they are fully qualified, know their value and want to get paid for it, rather than take less pay to have future security, Miss Bescoby said.

JOB SECURITY

"You will find far more men question the job security angle than do women," she said, "but that of course is understandable."

Referring to the ex-service women who have been placed by the Employment Service, Miss Bescoby stated they had never presented a problem, and were now settled in every line of work in Victoria.

"We placed far more ex-service girls in employment in Victoria than were ever recruited in the city," she said.

Of married women working, she said, employers who had to consider public opinion day after day preferred single women, but in lines of work where qualifications and dependability were the only factors, the employers had no preference as to whether a girl was single or married.

In a survey of the local employment picture, Miss Bescoby stated that the industrial expansion which had taken place during the war and the increased types of openings for women were reflected in the present scene.

"There are far more opportunities for women in business and in certain specialized lines in Victoria now than there ever were before the war," she said. "In those days, they had to go to Vancouver or east, while today, they can get at least a starting job in their line in their own hometown."

"More opportunities in the advertising and radio field are present today than were in the days before the war."

If a girl did not have a profession such as teaching or nursing, for example, the only other lines open to her were sales and office clerical work, or restaurant, laundry or hotel work, Miss Bescoby said. Such was not the case today, she added.

WANT GIRLS EDUCATED HERE

"The trend on the employers' part for hometown girls is everywhere evident," she said. "They want girls educated in Victoria schools, high schools and the college, girls whose social and educational background they know of, and also those whose reliability they feel they can count on, in the job."

"This attitude definitely and seriously affects the number of emigrants from Britain or even girls from other parts of the Dominion getting jobs here."

There has been no drop in the amount of wages offered fully qualified girls since the war, according to Miss Bescoby.

"Wages offered fully qualified office workers range from $85 to $115 a month, but the girls must be fully qualified before they are offered $85 a month."

In addition to consideration of hours and wages girls are influenced by such things as the need to wear a uniform, time for morning and afternoon coffee and lunchroom facilities, Miss Bescoby said.

Paul Henderson Dies Suddenly

Paul Henderson, former manager of Buckerfield's Ltd., Victoria branch, 2287 Windsor Road, died suddenly at his home early Sunday.

Born in Aberdeen, Scotland, Mr. Henderson was a resident of Victoria since 1929. He lived in Nanaimo for 10 years before coming to this city.

An active Mason throughout his life, the deceased was past master of Nanaimo Lodge No. 110, A.F. & A.M., and a past principal of the Keystone Chapter, No. 8, R.A.M. of Nanaimo. He was associated in Victoria with the Camosun Chapter, R.A.M.

He is survived by his widow at home, one daughter, Barbara, Montreal; two sons, Peter, U.B.C., Vancouver, and Paul, Toronto. Funeral service will be held at 1.30 Wednesday afternoon at Oak Bay United Church.

To Consult On Arena

A joint meeting of the Arena Commission under the chairmanship of Douglas Fletcher, and the arena committee, under Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, with C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer, has been called for Thursday to discuss the progress of the building. Mr. Fletcher has received a request from Ice Follies to bring their show to Victoria and is endeavouring to get a definite completion date of the building set.

At present, it appears as if the roof structure will be finished approximately the end of October, instead of the end of July, as original plans called for. This will leave the side-walls, interior construction, and installation of the refrigeration equipment still to be done.

Few Appeal For Lower Assessment

An exceptionally small list of appeals faces the Court of Revision when it meets Oct. 1 to consider appeals for reduction of assessments on land and improvements. H. G. Allen, acting assessor-collector, said today.

Only 15 cases are on the list he said, and most of these are on older properties, where owners are seeking a reduction because of alleged depreciation.

Mr. Allen said that with the heavy building during the past year, they had anticipated more appeals on the assessments of newer properties.

On the court of revision are Mayor Percy George, Ald. F. N. Cabellou, Ald. D. D. McTavish, Ald. Margaret D. Christie and Ald. H. M. Diggan.

Worry over the increasing number of stories appearing in newspapers about children being molested or enticed away has prompted Mrs. Henry Reimer, 3431 Williston Road, to write Mayor Percy George and ask him to institute a campaign to warn children not to accept rides or favors from strangers.

Contributory Plan Of Social Security Advocated By Labor

HAMILTON (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at its annual convention here today called for the enactment of a national social security plan on a contributory basis.

The social security question was brought up by resolutions from Victoria, Vancouver, Port Arthur, Calgary, Winnipeg, London, Toronto, Montreal, Cape Breton and the New Brunswick Federation of Labor. Their proposals were combined by the resolutions committee into a single document calling for:

1. Immediate implementation of a Dominion-wide social security plan on a contributory basis for all citizens.
2. The plan to include health, accident and hospitalization benefits; old age pensions, mothers' and widows' allowances, and "other necessary measures."
3. The Congress executive to study plans in effect in other countries, and from them embody a definite social security program for the organization.

PORT ARTHUR PROPOSAL

Delegate Currie of Port Arthur urged the creation of a separate federal department to handle social security. The Port Arthur Trades and Labor Council had urged such a step.

The resolution finally was adopted as presented by the committee.

Later, the Congress adopted a resolution asking for a national health scheme, also contributory.

This would include:

1. Financial assistance to municipalities in building hospitals.
2. Cash benefits during illness.
3. Medical and dental benefits for all persons.
4. Labor representation on hospital boards.

Prowler Was Drunk Who Lost Bearings

Numerous reports of prowlers about city residences were reported to police over the weekend. One of them turned out to be a false alarm. Responding to one of these calls, police in prowler cars caught one "culprit" near a window with his shoes in his hand. He was badly intoxicated and had been trying to get in without awakening anyone Saturday night. The inebriate, however, was two blocks short of the right house. Police guided him home.

New Bridge Asked Over Columbia River

A delegation representing the Trail Board of Trade and City Council today asked Works Minister E. C. Carson to build a $750,000 bridge over the Columbia River to link Trail and Fruitvale.

Among the delegates was J. L. Webster, M.L.A. for Rossland-Trail. Mr. Carson gave the delegation no assurance that the project would be undertaken.

LUMBER

In order to give the consumer the advantage of buying lumber at wholesale at the lowest possible price we have made arrangements to sell lumber direct from our lumber yard to customers. This direct method will eliminate all middlemen's charges and will result in lower prices to you. This lumber is all well graded and the regular price is 125 per thousand feet. If you are in the position to take delivery of truck load quantities of 10,000 or 8,000 feet the price is 75 per thousand feet or a saving of twenty per cent.

These materials are excellent for building planes, etc. We will be pleased to show you these goods at our yard.
